Insider Tip

You don't need a grand, luxurious gift basket (although, that is our specialty) to make an impression. It is better to send a smaller gift and stay in budget, than break the bank thinking a gift basket will fix all your problems. Be reasonable, and you will reap the benefit of a well thought out corporate gifting program.

Whatever the case may be, we can provide you with what you need. If you don't see something perfect on our website, give our friendly customer service a call and we will design a custom gift solution for your needs.

History of Administrative Professionals Day

While it is a common misconception that Administrative Professionals Day (APD) was created by flower distributors, and candy companies, so they could sell more products, we know the real story.

APD was originally organized in 1952 as Professional Secretaries Day by the National Secretaries Association (now known as the IAAP) in conjunction with a consortium of office product manufacturers. It was established as an effort to recognize secretaries for their contributions in the workplace, and to attract more people to administrative careers.

In the year 2000, IAAP announced a name change for Professional Secretaries Day. The name was changed to Administrative Professionals Day to keep pace with changing job titles and expanding responsibilities of today's administrative workforce.

Over the years, Administrative Professionals Day has become one of the largest workplace observances. The event is celebrated worldwide, bringing together millions of people for community events, educational seminars, and individual corporate activities recognizing support staff with gifts of appreciation.

We didn't invent the idea of Administrative Professionals Day, but we perfected the art of saying Thank You to your hard working associates. Let Gift Specialists Inc show you our wide variety of gift options to choose from. We offer unique solutions that will make your appreciation known in a memorable way.
